l. Policy

Raployees of the Central Intelligence Agency are entitled to compensation bedefits under the Federal Employees Compensation Act (Public Law 267, 6kth Congress) as amended and/or the Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949 (Public Law 110, 6lst Congress) as amended. These benefits include compensation for disability and death, and medical care for employees who suffer injuries in the performance of their duties.

2. Definitions

a. "In the Performance of Inty"

"In the performance of duty", as used in this Instruction, means that the individual's injury is directly attributable to or materially aggravated by his work and is not the result of the employee's willful misconduct, intexication, or intention to bring about the injury or death of himself or another.

b. Injury

For the purposes of this Instruction, the term "injury" includes, in addition to injury by accident, any disease proximately caused by the employment of the individual.

3. Commage

- a. Federal Duployees Compensation Act
 - (1) The provisions of the Federal Employees Compensation Act apply to employees of the Central Intelligence Agency who are citizens or residents of the United States or a territory of the United States.
 - (2) Employees of the Central Intelligence Agency who are neither citizens nor residents of the United States nor a territory of the United States will be compensated substantially in accordance with the benefit provisions of local workmen's compensation laws and regulations as recognized by the United States Eureau of Employees' Compensation.
- b. Central Intelligence Agency Act of 1949

Employees otherwise eligible for benefits under the Federal Compensation act whose claims may not be submitted to the Sureau of Employees!

TETHRILI INSTRUCTION

PERSONNEL

Compensation for security reasons will be granted these benefits under the authority contained in Section 10 of the Contral Intelligence Agency Act of 1949.

h. Responsibilities

- The Assistant Director (Personnel) is responsible for the administration of this program, for prescribing necessary procedures and for coordinating activities of other offices responsible for the performance of related functions. He, or his designee, will determine whether claims are to be processed under the provisions of the Federal Employees' Compensation Act or the Central Intelligence Agency Act and will administratively approve or disapprove those processed under the latter Act.
- b. The Office Chief concerned, the Chief, Medical Staff, the General Counsel and the Security Officer, CIA, are responsible for providing such recommendations concerning medical, legal or security issues involved in determining the method of processing or the compensability of individual claims as are requested by the Assistant Director (Forschel), or his designee.
- c. Supervisory officials are responsible for furnishing such documents, records and information as may be requested.
- d. Employees who claim benefits are responsible for complying with the procedural requirements set forth below and for fulfilling such other requests for information and examinations as may be necessary.

5. Benefits

a. General

Information and advice as to benefits in specific cases will be provided by the Personnel Office upon request. The general benefits to which employees may be entitled are listed in Appendix A. Briefly they include the following:

- (1) Payment for medical services and supplies, regardless of whether the injury has resulted in loss of worktime.
- (2) Loss of income benefits based upon time lost from work and upon the nature of disability or disfigurement.
- (3) Allowance for the services of an attendant for totally disabled persons.
